

NANCY WYNNE TALKS ABOUT THE MEETING TO BENEFIT SERBIANS

Madame Slavko Grouitch Will Address Large Gathering at the Garrick Theatre This Afternoon in Aid of Suffering Serbians—Other Matters

SERBIA, with its sorrows and losses, will be put vividly before us again this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the meeting which will take place in the Garrick Theatre, when Madame Slavko Grouitch will address the audience. Madame Grouitch is the guest of Mrs. John Markoe while in this city, and yesterday Miss Nina Lee gave a tea in her honor at her home, 2000 Walnut street. Many persons have not realized how the Serbians have suffered in this war. The atrocities are said to have been worse than those undergone by the Belgians! Be this so or not, the fact of having lost all they had and being in daily danger of starvation is bad enough, and our people will surely be as interested as they have been in the sufferings of all the widowed and orphaned in this frightful war.

Then tomorrow night we have the opening preparedness campaign dinner, which will be given by a committee of men and women in the Gold Room of the Adelphi Hotel at 8:30 o'clock. Major General George Barnett, commander of the United States Marine Corps, and Major General Leonard Wood, U. S. A., commanding the Department of the East, will be the guests of honor and both will speak. The committee under whose auspices the campaign is started includes Mr. William R. Nicholson, Mr. William H. Donner, Mr. C. S. W. Packard, Mr. John C. Bell, Major John C. Groome, Mr. George Wharton Pepper, Dr. Clement Biddle, Mrs. George W. Childs Drexel, Mrs. Stotesbury, Mrs. A. J. Drexel Biddle, Mr. Edward B. Smith, Mr. A. J. Drexel Biddle and Adjutant General J. Campbell Gilmore.

The first local appearance of the Mask and Wiggers, barring the dress rehearsal last week, was greeted by a typically large and enthusiastic audience last night at the Forrest Theatre, and the youths quite outdid themselves before the admiring gaze of many little debutantes.

Down quite close to the footlights were the Stotesburys, with a party, including Major David D. Porter and his extremely good-looking wife, the Edgar Scotts, Mrs. J. Kearsley Mitchell and Willing Hare. Marion Myers, in the rather unusual role of chaperone, was accompanied by her fiancé, George Wharton Pepper, Jr., his sister, Eleanor Pepper, Maizie Graham, Emilie Kennedy, Marie Wright, Roger Townsend, Bob Dechert, Albert Lucas and Gordon Hardwicke.

Another party, which wended its way to the Bellevue after the performance, included the Gurnee Munnis, the Heckescher Wetherills and the Shipley Dixons, and in another group, of which Mrs. Billy Freeman was the hostess, were the Roddy Paucos, Charlotte Bain and Lewis Parsons.

Doctor and Mrs. Allen gave a party for their daughter, Agnes Allen, and among the girls who applauded the efforts of the boys most enthusiastically were Josephine Foster, Eleanor Verner, Gertrude Pancoast, Lois Jackson and Barbara Boyd.

If any of you are contemplating matrimony perhaps it would be well to take a walk out Haverford way and stroll along Berkeley road—Berkeley road, as it is called, but otherwise known as Newly Weds' settlement. There one may see the dears out in their gardens planting vegetables on top of culla lilies and pansies in the midst of asparagus beds. This is not all, either. Vines must be trained on porches, even if hubby doesn't want to stoop down and kiss wife whenever she hands him up a tack or hammer, and then the rakes and spades which are in use, too—in fact, everything which is needed to make it all cozy and homelike. It always means work, and very few of our little newlyweds of these days have even lifted a finger in their own homes; still it was not necessary there, and at any rate we had decided to turn over a new leaf since they have married. From what one little bride told me of how happy she was to have something to do to keep home bright and cheerful, I do not think any one in this settlement has regretted the step yet. Perhaps it would not be so very hard, after all, to work a bit for "him" or "her" in the case may be.

NANCY WYNNE.

Hoy, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin L. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. H. Stemmer and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Williams.

Mount Sinai Hospital Ball

With all arrangements completed, indications are that the Mount Sinai Hospital charity ball, which will be held tonight at the Academy of Music, will be the most successful, financially and socially, ever given in aid of the institution. The Academy will be transformed into a fairyland bower. The stage will be decorated with palms and potted plants, and a rustic bridge will be built on both sides, entwined with blossoms and trailing vines. The proscenium boxes will be curtained with greenery and tiny electric lights will sparkle and glisten like bright stars from many corners.

The ball will begin promptly at 9 o'clock with a concert. A special feature this year will be a series of dances to be performed by members of a ballet school and composed expressly for this occasion. General dancing will be formally opened by the master and mistress of ceremonies, Mr. and Mrs. David Phillips.

Two orchestras will play dance music and a special dancing program has been arranged, which will include all the latest dances. The proceeds of this affair will be used for the maintenance of one of the busiest hospitals of the city.

Lansdowne

Today will be Daughters' Day at the Twentieth Century Club of Lansdowne. The program will be in charge of the Ridley Park Club, and Mrs. Winfield S. McHenry, the president, will speak on "The Value of Junior Sections and How to Organize." Mrs. I. H. O'Hara, of Philadelphia, will address the meeting on "What the Young Woman Can Do for the Club Movement." There will be readings and music by the Ridley Park Juniors.

Mr. Frank Sagendorph will have charge of the dance to be held at the Country Club tomorrow evening.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 24.—Japanese straw hats, built of the same material of which fans are made and decorated with Japanese scenes, added a touch to the Easter decorations today. Another novelty in headgear were the paper hats in unique designs. They are made of a fibre substance and do not give Mr. and Mrs. last night at the Traymore, where the combined musical club of Princeton University gave a concert and dance; at the Atlantic City Yacht Club, where the Easter Monday ball is given an important occasion, and the Seaside Country Club, where 2000 guests, mostly Philadelphians, enjoyed a dinner dance.

Daffodils were used profusely in the decorations of the tables at the Country Club and the favors were symbolic of the Easter season. Among those who entertained parties were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. C. Henderson, Dr. and Mrs. Walter F. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Haines, Judge and Mrs. Clarence L. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Connelly, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bark, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Garay, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McDevitt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Payne, Mr. Emerson Richards, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Koll.

A number of luncheons were given today at the various hotels. Mrs. Frank Buck entertained at luncheon at the Dennis for Mrs. A. M. McBurney, of Oak Lane, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Matthews gave a small luncheon on the Chalfont. Mrs. C. R. Shuman and Miss Dorothy Shuman, of Santa Barbara, Cal., gave a luncheon at the Marlborough-Blenheim for Miss A. B. Sterrett and Miss E. J. Sterrett, an important occasion, and Mrs. F. R. Culbert entertained at the same hotel for Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hughes, of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Arthur and their family of Oak Lane entertained Mrs. B. F. Vandergift, of Germantown, who were at the Glaslyn Chatham for over a week, returned to their homes this afternoon. Mrs. Philip J. Judd, at the Brighton with Mrs. Arthur Murphy, of New York.

Mrs. A. G. Jardella arrived at the Traymore today, accompanied by Mrs. E. F. Shaddock and Mr. F. E. Shaddock. Mrs. J. S. Bunting, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Kraddock, of Philadelphia, and Miss Sara James, of Chester, are also at the Traymore.

Mrs. Sydney E. Hutchinson was on the way this afternoon, attired in smart tan Norfolk suit and a gray straw hat with a floral crown.

Mrs. James Francis Sullivan was all in gray, her costume consisting of a gray tailored suit and a gray hat. Mrs. C. C. Buckman's dark blue suit emphasized the cape effect. She wore a blue straight-brimmed sailor decked with white wings.

Miss Julia A. Minnick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Minnick, of 1709 Fairmount avenue, who have a summer home at Ventnor, was married at 9 o'clock this morning to Mr. Carol Duncan, of Cleveland, at the Church of Our Lady, Star of the Sea, Chelsea. The Rev. Father McShane, of the Cathedral, performed the ceremony, which was followed by a wedding breakfast at the Traymore. Covers were laid for 13 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan will live in Cleveland.
